

I have had cell phone service for several years and have used three different companies. Each time I found a better plan or better service I lost my number by changing companies. This is difficult for the many friends and family who use the number to contact me, but especially difficult for my 86 year old mother who relies on me.

I would like the freedom to shop for the best service without having to give up the convenience of a number I have printed up for others.